DESCRIPTION

The Jaguar XJS is one of the great Gran Turismo models and has long been considered a classic in automotive history. Produced from September 1975 to April 1996 as the successor to the iconic E-Type, it blends luxury and comfort with sporty performance, thanks in part to the legendary, velvety-smooth Jaguar V12 engine. Since 1988, the XJS has also been available as a V12-powered convertible, offering drivers and passengers the elegance of this beautiful Gran Turismo with the added feature of open-top driving, and with 0–100 km/h acceleration in under 7 seconds, the 1988 model delivered thrilling performance that could rival any competitor. This Jaguar XJS V12 convertible comes in a stunning Sapphire Blue with a beige interior and blue soft top. First delivered in July 1988 to its original owner in Lucerne, Switzerland, the car remained in Switzerland until 2010. It was then imported to Germany by its second owner, who maintained it meticulously. The vehicle has belonged to its current owner since 2015, who has had it regularly serviced by us, ensuring all necessary maintenance and repairs have been carried out promptly. This well-maintained, third-hand XJS V12 convertible has been thoroughly inspected by our workshop experts and is ready to drive. It comes with an H license plate and is being sold on behalf of the customer.
