DESCRIPTION

In 2012 Land Rover celebrated 10 years of Range Rover in its current guise. The third generation Range Rover was introduced in 2002 to critical acclaim setting new benchmarks in levels of luxury and all terrain capability. Over those ten years, several facelifts and model year updates kept the Range Rover at the cutting edge of technology leading up to three special editions, which provided customers with increased options and convenience. Bold design and ultimate luxury underpinned the Range Rover Autobiography special edition. Benefitting as standard from the Range Rover Design Pack, a collection of exterior styling features that are seamlessly integrated to compliment the car's powerful appearance, without compromising its classic lines. The pack introduced new front and rear bumpers, 'Titan' silver front grille and side vent treatments and fog lamp surrounds, integrated stainless steel exhaust finishers and side skirts. These are complemented by striking 20 inch alloy wheels in Shadow Chrome. Inside the focus is on unparalleled luxury and comfort with the Range Rover Seat Style Pack. This comprises rear seats with recline and lumbar adjustment, heating and cooling functions and multi adjustable aircraft style headrests with wings for added support. The passenger "front seat away" function provides a simple control for adding extra rear legroom, while the front passenger seat itself benefits from a memory function than can store up to three different personalised settings. Both versions gain the 19 speaker, 1,200W harman/kardon LOGIC7 surround sound system and are fitted with illuminated treadplates. Seven exterior finishes were available, together with an extensive range of interior colour and trim combination options. The TDV8 Autobiography was priced at £84,295 in 2012. This particular vehicle is a 2012 TDV8 Autobiography finished in Santorini Black and fitted with the “Exterior Design Pack”. Inside features Jet/Ivory duo tone semi-aniline leather with Grand Black Lacquer finishers and an Ivory leather headliner. The vehicle has covered fifty four thousand miles and has had just one owner from new. It is in outstanding condition, having been prepared for sale by Land Rover Classic’s own workshop. Supplied with 12 months warranty and roadside assistance.
